Sunday! Sunday! Sunday! Funny cars first appeared on dragstrips in the mid-1960s, and within a few short years these super-hot "flopsters" were fan favorites. This classic 1/24-scale funny car kit features cutting-edge early-1970s technology including a state-of-the-art tubular funny car frame, a blown 426 HEMI engine, "zoomie" exhaust headers, and wrinkle-wall rear drag slicks. Revell was there and we clearly remember the glory days of funny cars, so we believe that you'll enjoy building Flashpoint. It's our new vintage-inspired hot rod that's ready to burn down the strip with its one-piece '70 Duster body, rooftop emergency lights, and a wild all-new fire-themed decal sheet. .
